Flying to...

Providence?

STAY The Dean Hotel

Our favourite kind of hotel, the Dean is a hang-out for locals as well as tourists, thanks to its beer hall, karaoke bar, cocktail den and coffee shop. The 50-odd rooms are tastefully augmented with found objects, and the overall effect is cool, calm and cosy. thedeanhotel.com

EAT Durk's Bar-B-Q

This Texas-style barbecue joint on College Hill may look unprepossessing, but the chow speaks for itself – from low 'n' slow smoked ribs and brisket to Rhode Island's best burger, all washed down with the daily changing house punch. durksbbq.com

DO Lovecraft Arts & Sciences

Providence-born HP Lovecraft is now a cult figure, and the early 20th-century horror writer inspires plenty of ghoulish pilgrimages to the city. Fans should head to this dark, dinky arcade emporium for their fill of weird literature and other eldritch ephemera. weirdprovidence.org
